* AMONG THE BILLIARDIS

Average Falling Far Below Standard.

Seven entries have been received for the national amateur 18.2 balkline billiard championship. This announcement was made last night after a meeting of the national amateur class championship tournament at the Morningside rooms last night. Both George T. Moon, Jr., the ultimate winner, and Joseph Stern, his opponent, showed in flashes that they were capable of creditable balkline execution, but they were extremely nervous and missed at times on chances that a novice would not be expected to trip up on. The average fell below 2, although 5 is the figure they are supposed to average. After seventy-dive innings Mr. Moon finished his string and won by 200 to 180.

Perhaps the most noteworthy feature of the winner's play was his ability to keep the lvories together or gather them when necessary. He showed good judgment of speed, but not of angles. His draw shots were splendld at time, but just as often miscalculated. For some strange reason he always succeeded in accomplishing the difficult ones and missing the simple shots. Mr. Moon proved his familiarity with the masse shot by executing it half a dozen times during the contest.

Glovanni Raicevich, the Italian wrestler, has been engaged by Carlos Mandola, a sporting promoter of South America, to go to Buenos Ayres and take part in a championship tournament. Raicevich will probably start the latter part of this month, as he wants to make several stops on the way, including one at the city of Mexico, where he will engage in another wrestling tournament. # Economy and Efficiency— The Modern Way

The Electric Vehicle industry for the last three years has increased 100% a year.

This can mean but one thing —the absolute superiority of the electric vehicle for all city and suburban use.

If you want to find out the most economical and satisfactory method of trucking or delivery service, you should attend the Automobile Shows at the New Grand Central Palace and the Madison Square Garden. The electric car for pleasure has as many points of advantage as the electric-truck and delivery wagon. Commercial Vehicle Exhibitors 4 the Madison Square Garden, Jan. 15-20.

The Most Complete Affair of Its Kind Ever Held

NOW OPEN

THIS show is of interest to every business man who wishes to increase the efficiency of his delivery system and decrease its cost.

Whether you are a manufacturer, merchant, butcher, grocer-whatever your business-if you still depend upon the horse-drawn vehicle for your deliveries, you will profit by a visit to this most complete affair of its kind ever held.

You will learn why the adoption of the "horseless" delivery system insures more prompt deliveries and cuts down maintenance expense.

-Why it is just as efficient in winter, with its sleet covered, slippery pavements, as in

-Why its installation-does not represent an expense, but an investment that soon pays -Why it is an invaluable asset because of the progressiveness with which it stamps

All the leading makes of electric and gasolene commercial vehicles are on display-all types and sizes-varying in weight from a 150-lb. tricycle or a 500-lb. delivery wagon to
